Telemedicine and Telehealth Services

Policy Number: TXCPCP01

Version 2.0

BCBSTX Approval Date: 10/26/2018

Effective Date: 11/01/2018 (Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas)

Description

Physicians and health professionals who practice in Texas have the option to provide telemedicine and telehealth services to their patients to strengthen provider/patient relationships and encourage continuity of care with the same provider. Pursuant to Texas Insurance Code Chapter 1455, Telemedicine and Telehealth services and procedures are covered for certain insured PPO and HMO plans (other than small group plans) when rendered by a network provider. Medical policies, member benefits, and eligibility are determining factors in reimbursement. Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas network physicians and healthcare professionals can provide telehealth services to their BCBSTX patients subject to their applicable contract(s) with BCBSTX.

The purpose of the Telemedicine and Telehealth Services policy is to provide guidance on payment and coding for services that are provided to a patient by a network healthcare provider, not at the same physical location. These services can be performed through various interactive telecommunication or information technology devices.

"Telemedicine medical service" means a health care service delivered by a physician licensed in Texas, or a health professional acting under the delegation and supervision of a physician licensed in Texas, and acting within the scope of the physician's or health professional's license to a patient at a different physical location than the physician or health professional using telecommunications or information technology.

"Telehealth service" means a health service, other than a telemedicine medical service, delivered by a health professional licensed, certified, or otherwise entitled to practice in Texas and acting within the scope of the health professional's license, certification, or entitlement to a patient at a different physical location than the health professional using telecommunications or information technology.

Communication Services:

Interactive electronic telecommunications equipment includes, audio and video equipment permitting two-way, or live video interactive communication between the patient and physician or practitioner.

Live video, two-way interaction (Synchronous)- Live interaction between the patient and the qualifying healthcare professional using audiovisual telecommunication technology.

Store and Forward (Asynchronous telecommunication) - technology that stores and transmits or grants access to a person's clinical information for review by a health professional at a different physical location than the person.

Texas Occupations Code Section 111.004, provides that the Texas Medical Board may adopt rules related to telemedicine medical services and telehealth services to:

- Ensure that patients using telemedicine medical services receive appropriate, quality care;
- Prevent abuse and fraud in the use of telemedicine medical services, including rules relating to the filing of claims and records required to be maintained in connection with telemedicine medical services;
- Ensure adequate supervision of health professionals who are not physicians and who provide telemedicine medical services; and
- Establish the maximum number of health professionals who are not physicians that a physician may supervise through a telemedicine medical service

Location Guideline

Originating sites are defined as a location where the patient received a telehealth service by a qualifying healthcare professional. Originating sites can include but are not limited to the following:

- ✓ The offices of physicians or practitioners
- ✓ Hospitals
- ✓ Critical Access Hospitals (CAH)
- ✓ Rural Health Clinics
- ✓ Federally Qualified Health Centers

- ✓ Hospital based or CAH based Renal Dialysis Centers (including satellites)- Independent Renal Dialysis Facilities are not eligible
- ✓ Skilled Nursing Facilities (SNF)
- ✓ Community Mental Health Centers (CMHC)
- ✓ The patient's residence

Reimbursement Information:

For insured plans subject to Texas Insurance Code Chapter 1455, a covered service or procedure provided to a member by an in-network healthcare professional cannot be excluded from coverage solely because it was not provided through an in-person consultation. The patient's plan may require a copayment, coinsurance or deductible for telemedicine or telehealth covered services/procedures provided by a healthcare professional. The amount of the copayment, coinsurance or deductible cannot exceed the amount that would be provided through an in-person consultation. The following requirements must be met for reimbursement unless otherwise agreed upon:

- The network healthcare professional must maintain complete and accurate medical records determined by the Texas Administrative Code
- Ensure adequate measures are implemented for patient communications, recordings and patient's records are protected consistent with Federal and State privacy laws
- Qualified physicians providing telemedicine services must possess a full Texas medical license when treating residents of Texas

Telemedicine may only be reimbursed when using the communication services described within this policy and the qualifying healthcare professional followed the standard of care requirements.
